2. Have Your Say....and Other Interactive Parts of Our Site

We sometimes provide interactive services on our site, such as the "Have Your Say" sections and other similar parts of our site.

We moderate these interactive services which means that from time to time we read entries and choose the ones we like to go on our site. We are sorry not every entry will make it through to our site.

Parents and guardians who allow their children to use the internet without them should talk to their children about safety online, make their children aware of the potential risks and monitor their child's use of the service.
